

Some Common Questions and Facts

Who can use this Service?

No registration required, and there are no basic eligibility criteria! You can simply place your order, and benefit from our service.

Simply anybody from any country can use this service to Claim As Seen On Media for themselves, their book, company/website, or products/services.

Are these National Websites of FOX NBC CBS PBS?

No! Your PR will be published on local affiliate websites of FOX NBC CBS PBS like fox 34, WBOC, KTVN, etc. However, you will have full rights to use “As Seen On” FOX NBC CBS PBS, etc. since these are the affiliates of these major broadcast networks.

Can I use As Seen On with Media Logos?

Yes, you can use As Seen On with Media Logos on your website, book, author profile, social media profiles and marketing materials.

Today, a mere mention or insertion of your company name or quote in some totally random guest post written by an independent guest post seller or contributor who does not even represent that business journal/magazine/news company like Forbes, INC, and Mashable enables you to use As Seen On Forbes, and As Seen On INC to name a few.

(Please Note: These Brand names Forbes, INC, and Mashable have nothing to do with selling mentions on their site, they are just for reference purpose, they are in fact fighting a war against these Independent Guest Post Sellers and Brokers, and have succeeded a lot in removing such contributors from their site who take money for mentions)

Then why not here?

In fact, a whole fully-dedicated feature post is being published by us about you on those Broadcast news network sites.

If you don't know, Press Release is one of the oldest forms of Public Relations Tools that date back to 1906.

Also, press releases hold more Authority than your Paid Guest Post Articles, since press releases are OFFICIAL STATEMENTS issued by the distributor on your behalf. Not some casual guest post article that includes 20 quotes from 20 people and mention of 40 companies in one random post.

In simpler terms, when it comes to “As Seen On Media Services” and “Authority Media Citations Services”, Guest Posting Services are Poor Cousins of Authority Media Citations Services that take one to two months on average to get the post approved, and charge you Thousands of Dollars for just mentioning your name in some random post.

Hence, you must ask them, how legit their service is, and how ethical is it to claim As Seen On with their service. Not Us!

Are these Links Permanent?

No! Press release posts are not permanent. They are purged by the news sites after few months, once the news becomes old. However, that does not affect your rights to use As Seen On. Because once you are cited on these News sites, you have lifelong rights to claim As Seen On (Not applicable in case of a refund or cancellation of your order).

Moreover, if you want, you can take screenshots of your news articles and save them with you as proof. Though, it's not mandatory.

How to Take Screenshots of News Articles?

It's quite easy to take Screenshots of your News Articles, and it totally free. There are many Free Website Screenshot tools and Google Chrome Extensions available over the internet, which allow you to capture a full screenshot of your published press release.
